FAIR A SUCCESS IN SPITE OF THE RAIN

Great Show of Horses, Mules, Cattle, Sheep and Hogs. Floral Hall and Poultry House Filled.

Rain, which fell in torrents most all of Wednesday came pretty near knocking out the fair the first day, but the exhibition went on, notwithstanding and a large portion of the program for that day was shown. The rest was carried over until Thursday, and all but four rings were disposed of. They will be a starter for this morning's program, and as they include the big $200 saddle stake, a great crowd should witness them. The program for today is particularly good. Mostly saddle and harness horses will be shown and as they excite more interest than any other rings, everybody in this section who can will be on hand to see them. The ring is in perfect condition after the hard rain and there is no such thing as the pestiferous dust to be seen. The grounds present a pretty picture with the green sward, the pretty lake and the dozens of tents, etc. The fair is a delightful place to spend the day and if the weather is as good as it now promises to be, a record-breaking crowd will witness the program of the third and last day. The management feels to congratulate itself on getting the high-class judges it was able to secure. Messrs. John Dolan, James Gay, Thomas F. Curtis, A. D. Leavell, James N. Denny, H. A. Pickett and others belong to a class that it is exceedingly hard to find, to say nothing of excelling. The show stock is good both in quality and quantity. There are fully a hundred show horses, lots of mules, cattle, sheep, hogs, etc. Space forbids this issue giving the names of the lucky ones in the Floral Hall and Poultry House, but these will be given in detail in Tuesday's paper. Around The Ring
"The best dinner I ever saw at a fair," is what they all say.
B. N. Phillips was at the fair yesterday with Harry D. Frye.
Jesse and Hensley Overstreet, of Boyle, were at the fair Thursday.
Old Charley Sandridge is here again. It would not be much fair without him.
R. L. Graham, of Lebanon, who never misses a Stanford fair, was here Thursday.
The best program seen at a country fair in this section in years will be shown today. Follow the crowd and go.
Smith & Lucas, of Lebanon, are here with a handsome lot of horses and they are getting their share of the money.
The Danville Military Band is all right. It makes good music and is composed of gentlemen with whom it is pleasing to deal.
Mr. James N. Denny of Garrard, a gentleman of the old school, was the judge in the Jersey ring, and his decisions were fair and just.
Cols. John Dolan and James Gay made the best judges ever. They not only know their business but are high-class gentlemen with it.
The farmers of this section ought to be glad to have the Stanford fair pulled off in their midst. Rain always accompanies the exhibition.
Those hogs rings were very interesting. Stanford is the Red Berkshire fair and more hogs of that breed are being brought here each year.
G. B. Swinebroad came near licking the platter clean in the Jersey rings the first day. He got all the blues but one and came near landing that.
Mitchell & Coleman, of Harrodsburg, have a string of eight breed winners. They have in the lot Carroll Bailey's good stallion, Rowland Peavine.
Hugh McElwain, of Richmond, has a nice string of horses and he knows how to show them. He is also a very pleasant and satisfactory gentleman to do business with.
H. E. Allen & Son, of Richmond, have four good ones. Young Mr. Allen shows the string but the elder Allen is down with him and is helping him with the work.
The dinners were fine and the Lincoln County fair is very proud of them. Sam J. Embry is a caterer of a high class and all left the dining tent full of good things.
Mack Hughes has a great gelding in Peavine King. He has shown the handsome fellow five times and he has won just that number of blues. He has already won two blues at the fair.
J. Nevin Carter, who has been laid up with rheumatism for some time, was able to be at the fair Thursday. His illness prevented his showing his good stallion, Kentucky Gentleman.
Capt. John B. Dinwiddie, the "silver-tongued," was there with the goods as ring marshal. His stentorian voice could be heard all over the grounds. Even the Danville Brass Band could not drown it.
Jack Beazley is the most untiring worker yet found. After working over time Tuesday he put in Tuesday night sprinkling the road between the fair grounds and town and wouldn't quit until after it had rained a half hour or so.
The location is a beautiful one, but the fair grounds are too far from town. They are all right for the Garrard county people, but too far away from town for those coming from other sections. Pity Ed Ballard can't move them just a little.
Wednesday the drain from the ring to the pond became stopped up. When an effort was made to open it two big snakes jumped out of it. One was killed and the other escaped into the pond, but was captured later by the snake charmer with the Puritan Carnival Co., who soon had the serpent doing all sorts of stunts.
Woods Walker, of Garrard, bought of W. G. Gooch at the fair grounds yesterday, a sow for $100. This sow took first premium as best sow, any age, championship as best sow, any age, in the sweepstake ring.
Mr. Walker also bought the Senior champion boar that was shown by R. T. Bruce, for $200. This boar also won as Grand Champion. Both of these champion pigs are Lincoln county products. A. K. Walker sold a high class sow to W. B. Denny for the next little sum of $100, and W. O. Walker sold to Mr. Denny a Junior sow pig, but the price was just.

Rev. Brooks will not be here to conduct the protracted meeting as announced in our last issue, and the meeting will probably not begin Sept. 1st, but at some later date which will be announced as soon as decided.
Mr. James Wilson and wife and Mrs. Sue Hayden and son, Stephens, came over from Harrodsburg in Mr. Wilson's car and took Mrs. Emma Farris, their cousin to the Springs Sunday, where they partook of an elegant dinner and had a most pleasant day.
A library table runner crocheted by Mrs. Anna Napier and a boudoir case made by Mrs. Parris were winners of premium at the Brothard fair, entered by the Ladies Aid of the Christian church. Both articles were highly complimented for their beauty and neatness by the judges.
Prof. Hatfield and Miss Clara Collier motored quietly to Lexington Monday, where they were united in matrimony. They have been devoted lovers for some time and are well known. Prof. Hatfield as principal of the graded school, is a christian gentleman and ranks high as an instructor and "Daddy" as she is familiarly called. She is known and loved by the whole city. She is a splendid lady of rare accomplishments. We can personally testify to her ability as housekeeper, entertainer and she can't be beaten preparing good things for the table. Is generous, lovely of disposition, beautiful in face and figure and will certainly do her part in all the sacred word wife means. May happiness, prosperity and usefulness follow their union.
Mr. Sam King and wife, Mrs. Kittie King and Mrs. Morrison and baby, and Miss Bettie Higgins, of Ensley, Ala., have been with friends and relatives here. They were members of the King reunion which was gotten up by Mr. Wilson King, of Gum Sulphur. The reunion was held at Brown Spring, above town Sunday. About fifty or more of the King families were present. Among the number were: Mr. James King, of Oklahoma and his daughter and husband of Louisville and Mrs. Judith King, of Somerset. Mr. McCollum, of Junction City, and many others including Mrs. M. E. Fish, Mrs. Allie Pettus, Mrs. Perry King, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gover, of this place, and Mrs. James Cummins, of Bellevue. A most bountiful spread of everything good to eat was served and the warmth of kinship revived.

DID SERVICE FOR 57 YEARS
R. L. Berry, of the West End, while having the roof taken off of his home in order to replace it with a new one, ran across a shingle on which was carved "J. C. July 14, 1860." It was likely cut by the man who nailed on the shingle, which had done good service for 57 years, and which was yet in a good state of preservation.
There is no shortage of rifles for American soldiers to be sent abroad.
C. C. Cov, of Madison, was at the fair Thursday.
Charles H. Jett, of Madison county, was at the fair Thursday.
Messrs. J. D. and Alfred Eads, of Shelby, are enjoying the fair.
C. L. Winfrey, of Somerset, was here Thursday with H. Rowan Saufley.
E. P. Bunton, representing the State Fair, is on hand advertising his great show.
Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Anderson, of Mt. Sterling, are with Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Woods during the fair.
Mine Host G. D. McCollum, of the McCollum House at Junction City, was a visitor at the fair Thursday.
H. Rowan Saufley won the walking ring Thursday afternoon with his good black mare, Black Bess, probably the greatest walking mare in Central Kentucky. He rode her to perfection. He turned the premium over to his better half.
The premium for the best mare mule colt under one year was won by B. W. Gaines and was sold by the association, which had offered $100 for the winner, at auction.
Thomas F. Curtis, of Madison county, bought the pretty thing for $100, which is said to be the highest price ever paid for a mule colt in this section. The colt is by Mr. Gaines' grand jack, Jack Turner, and is a great advertisement for him.

HUSTONVILLE
Harry Frye and family, of Hubble, were here Sunday the guests of A. M. Frye.
Miss Laura Pearl Carter, of Stanford, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Frye.

Miss Clara Collier, the bright and pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Collier, of Crab Orchard, and Prof. U. G. Hatfield, head of the Crab Orchard Graded and High School, were married in Lexington first of the week by Dr. T. C. Ecton, pastor of the First Baptist church of that city. The ceremony was said at the home in the presence of Dr. and Mrs. Hatfield, of Lancaster. Dr. Hatfield is a brother of the groom. The bride wore a tailored gown of green cloth with hat to match. She is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Collier and is as pretty as she is deservedly popular. She and Prof. Hatfield have been sweethearts for a long time and their object in going to Lexington to marry was the novelty of it. There was no parental objection. From Lexington Prof. and Mrs. Hatfield went to Cincinnati, where they are spending their honeymoon. They will return first of the week and make Crab Orchard their home. Their legion of friends are anxiously waiting the opportunity to congratulate the groom and wish his bride many years of happiness and usefulness.

UNITED REALTY CO. SALES
The United Realty Co. will be busy for the next few days. On tomorrow, Saturday, at 10:30 A. THE LATEST WAR NEWS
Four German steamers, aggregating 20,000 tons, seized as prizes of war by the Cuban Government, were transferred to the United States Government Tuesday.
German airplanes raided Kent and Yorkshire counties on the east coast of England. Ten flyers dropped bombs on Ramsgate, Margate and Dover, in Kent, killing eleven persons and injuring thirteen. Three German airplanes were shot down.
Pleasant Cook, aged 85, is dead at Nicholasville.
The Italians continued their great offensive from Tolmino to the head of the Adriatic Sea, despite stubborn Austrian resistance, and the British and French made further gains at Lens and Verdun, and held their gains. The Italians have taken over 13,000 prisoners, and the French 6,000. Aerial fighting yesterday was intense on the French front. Between the Tirul marshes and the River Aa the Germans have started a new offensive against the Russians.

WON BY BIG MAJORITY
The election to take the sense of the people of the Waynesburg graded high school on the question of voting bonds with which to build a school-house to take the place of the one burned some time ago was held Monday and it was decided by a vote of 56 to 6 to sell bonds to the amount of $5,000. The bonds will be printed at once and sold. It is the intention of the trustees to build a modern school-house of four or five rooms and it will likely be of concrete. Prof. S. S. Robinson, head of the school, who was here this week attending the Institute, tells the I. J. that the school will resume work Monday next and that it is hoped that every pupil will be on hand the first day. The two lodge rooms, the old drug store and a room in the Waynesburg Deposit Bank will be used. Prof. Robinson is very much interested in his work at Waynesburg and thinks in a few weeks he will have things running well in his school, which was considerably crippled by the burning of the building.

FEEDING SOLDIERS SOME JOB
Here are some facts from Farm and Fireside which shows just how big a task it is to feed an army from which these figures are taken says: "At the rate of four pounds of foodstuffs a day per soldier, which is the ration for camp or garrison, 4,000,000 pounds will have daily to be provided for the troops. This is something of a task. Of fresh beef alone there will be call for 1,250,000 pounds. The army will drink 35 tons of coffee daily. Two huge train loads of foodstuffs will be required each day to carry the provisions for the force in question. Think of furnishing the meals for a great moving city of a million people, or of provisioning a thousand or more great armies, and you will have a better idea of what feeding the new army means."

HONOR THE SOLDIER BOYS
Mr. T. D. Newland made a good suggestion to the Interior Journal the other day when he said that Stanford ought to do something for the delectation of the patriotic young men hereabout who will soon be called to war. He says he is willing to subscribe liberally to a fund to give them an entertainment of some kind. The suggestion should and doubtless will meet with favor all over the county. We owe it to the boys to make it pleasant for them while they are yet in our midst, as well as to do all in our power for them when they leave us. The Interior Journal will be more than glad to help with a fund to give the boys a rattling good time before they go and moves that others be heard on the subject.

BABY LEFT IN YARD.
A boy baby, presumably ten days old, was found in the yard of Mitt Embry, colored, in Macksville, Saturday about noon. Where the little fellow came from, or who left him there is a mystery so far, although an effort has been made to ascertain something about him. A change of clothes was left with the infant, but there is nothing that would reveal his identity. Mayor Florence and City Attorney T. J. Hill have taken the matter in hand and will institute a search for the mother and father. In the mean time the boy is being cared for by Embry's wife, who already has become quite attached to him. Several doctors were called to see the boy, but none were prepared to say by which race he belongs.

WON BY HOME INDORSEMENT
Jay W. Harlan, a prominent Danville lawyer, will in all probability be the next State Senator from the Boyle-Casey-Lincoln-Garrard district, he having won the Democratic nomination in the recent primary by the scant margin of fifty-four votes over Clay Kauffman, of Lancaster, in one of the hardest fights ever waged in the district. The splendid indorsement he received in his home county of Boyle turned the trick, as his opponent carried the other three counties. Mr. Harlan, who is a strong Administration supporter, is a kinsman of the late Chief Justice John M. Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court and a distinguished Kentuckian of his day.—Louisville Times.

RED CROSS ITEMS
Let every woman in Lincoln county do her part to help answer the call of our country to supply our boys in the navy with sweaters, socks, wristlers and scarfs.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank all who were so kind and thoughtful of us in our hour of sorrow. May God bless them one and all. Withers Brothers and Sister.

Business Habits at Home

Some men throw business habits aside when they get home. The fact is that the same care and foresight should be used in the home as in the office, store or factory. A checking account should be opened for the household accounts and all money deposited and all expenses paid by check. This plan is simple and greatly assists the home keeper to take care of the income and expenses. : : : : : : : : : :

Save Your Worn Tires

It is a needless and extravagant waste to throw away your treadworn and rutworn tires after getting only 3,000 to 5,000 miles of service out of them. Engineers of world-wide reputation and over a hundred thousand practical hard-headed "show me" American motorists have put their approval on

GATES HALF-SOLE TIRES

The tires on your car that are beginning to show wear after only 3,000 to 5,000 miles can be made to give you not only double mileage, but better service than you ever had before. Every Gates Half-Sole Tire carries a written guarantee for Not Less Than 3,500 Miles of Service Without a Puncture. You cannot get this kind of guaranteed service from any new tire without paying two or three times the cost of a Gates Half-Sole.

Don't Throw Away Another Worn Tire
Find out first about Gates Half-Soles. If you are a car owner it will not take you five minutes to see and understand for yourself a process that seems almost like magic. You will be interested. We are ready to show you and we will prove every statement we have made.

A GROWING MENACE

The so-called Industrial Workers of the World, which is operating with such destruction in Washington, Arizona, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, is a growing menace to the laws of the land and unless put down by federal bayonets will continue to spread terror through the country. It appears to be operated in the interest of the German government. In a speech the other day Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, said the people generally are not aware of the danger that lurks in the body in which murder is reduced to a science and perjury is a fine art. Unoffending victims are murdered and by reason of a prearranged alibi the guilty person goes free. It is the most treasonable organization that could be organized and the senator said instead of the initials of the gang standing for what it purports to, it really stands for "Imperial Wilhelm's Warriors." Such an organization should not be permitted to exist in this country. It is an arch enemy to the government and a destroyer of all social obligations. As evidence of its total depravity this selection from its song book suffices:

"Onward Christian soldiers, rip and tear and smite;
"Let the gentle Jesus bless your dynamite;
"Smash the doors of every home, pretty maidens seize;
"Use your might and sacred right to treat her as you please."

It will be remembered that four so-called Democrats united with the Republicans some ten years ago and defeated Senator Beckham, who was the Democratic nominee for the United States senate. All of them are dead except McNutt and probably getting their deserts in hades. McNutt is still with us, the more's the pity, and has come out a full fledged Republican, since the Democrats so unceremoniously turned him down at the primary when he had the gall to run for commissioner of Jefferson county. When the Bible speaks of the last end of that man being worse than the first, it possibly had McNutt in mind if such a creature could be of so much importance.

Paul Maywood refused the benefit of clergy before being led to the electric chair at Trenton, N. J. As he killed a man, his wife and their daughter he doubtless felt that preachers could do him no good and the sooner he began his sojourn in hades, to which he was certain to go, the better.

One-fourth of the marriages in Louisville during the year proved failures. There were 2,554 marriages and 660 divorces. The judges say that most of these misfit marriages resulted from Jeffersonville unions that are made in haste to be repented at leisure.

We hear a good deal about punishing slackers and obscure men for treasonable utterances against the United States. They doubtless get all that is coming to them but if such men as Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi, LaFollette, of Wisconsin, and others who sit in the seats of the mighty were made to do time for their treasonable utterances the effect would be decidedly more impressive. In a speech in the senate the other day, Vardaman declared that the war was instigated by commercial bandits and is reproach to civilization, and that the president made a mistake when he called the negro to arms. He also grew red in the face as he denounced the draft, which he says will leave a problem more difficult and disastrous than the sudden emancipation of the negro. If this successor of Jefferson and Lamar in the so-called greatest deliberative body on earth would go to a barber and have the long hair, that the Bible says is a shame to a man, clipped to the skin and then have the good sense to keep his mouth closed he may escape the punishment that he richly deserves.

Georgia has at least one pestiferous citizen who ought to be muzzled. It is Thomas E. Watson, who ran for president several elections ago on the populist or some such ticket. He is nearly always in trouble with the government, if not for sending obscene literature through the mails for some other offense. He is now devoting his energies to defeat the working of the draft and was to have spoken at Macon against it a few days ago, but sensibly called his meeting off when he found that federal officers would be on hand to take him in tow if he said a word amiss. The sooner Georgia abates this nuisance the better it will be for her reputation.

Though not a great man in the full acceptance of the term, Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, who died Friday night at Asheville, N. C., of uraemic poisoning, was long a power in his state and a democrat, who could always be depended upon. He was Bryan's running mate in 1908 and in 1910 was elected to the United States Senate after a memorable contest over Senator Beveridge and became his party's leader in that body. His term expired in March last, having been defeated for reelection by a Republican, the more was the pity.

The leader of the mob that murdered defenseless negroes at East St. Louis, Ill., pleaded guilty to rioting and conspiracy to commit murder and was given a sentence of nineteen years for the two offenses. This seems only a part of what should have been coming to him. Hanging is too good but the northern people evidently are of the impression that it is not a capital offense to kill a negro.

THE TRIBBLE FAMILY REUNION

Capt. Sam M. Boone, of Winchester, contributes the following to the Richmond Climax:

It was my pleasure to attend a reunion of the Tribble family on yesterday at Flat Woods, Madison county. The crowd present (all Tribbles and their blood relatives) must have numbered between one hundred and fifty and one hundred and seventy-five souls; and a better looking crowd could not have been mustered from the four quarters of the globe. Prayers, christian songs and many talks was the program.

After that had been completed such a feast of good things in superabundance was spread upon the green sward and beneath the overhanging boughs of giant oaks, crowning with their grateful shade the sacred spot where the clans had met for the second time to do honor to the Tribble name. A remembrance of this event, good cheer and hospitality, will form in my heart a legacy and a treasure that will grow brighter and brighter "as the years go rolling on," and prepare us, as I trust it may, in some sweet day, to meet in the higher, grander heavenly realms where separations and partings never come.

To give even a synopsis of all the talks to which we listened would take up too much space—so let it suffice—they all did well; but I must be pardoned in saying in conclusion, the best talks I heard were made by three cousins of mine, all Tribbles—Cousin Kate Barrow, of this county, and two beautiful young ladies, granddaughters of my cousin, Martin, long since gone to his reward. I am sorry I cannot give their names, but they were beautiful young women, bright and fascinating and well equipped as all representatives to champion the cause of the Tribble name here or elsewhere.

The Death Angel on August 10th called for little Daisy, the eighteen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds. When God saw fit He spoke from heaven and took the little darling home. She was a bright little girl, the youngest child and the pet of the home, but God needed another little angel so he took little Daisy. She leaves a weeping mother, father, brother and sister to mourn her loss, but bear up bereaved ones for heaven seems nearer since you know your little daughter is there. Her remains were laid to rest in the Ephesus cemetery.
